COMPUTER SKILLS

I have been doing systems/software consulting and web design for a variety of clients since 1986, and I have integrated this knowledge into my research and classes in a variety of ways (including WebCT and Blackboard, bulletin boards/chats, and a course related websites). In addition, from 2006 to present, I have served as the webmaster and technological consultant for three departments and groups on campus: the URI Philosophy Department, the URI Archaeology Group, and the International Merleau Ponty Society.
