

A large, light gray watermark of a university building with a central clock tower is visible in the background. The building has multiple windows and a prominent entrance.

Local Wastewater Management: Starting It, Running It, and Clearing the Hurdles

March 14, 2006

UNIVERSITY OF
Rhode Island

Partnership Agencies:

RI Independent Contractors and Associates

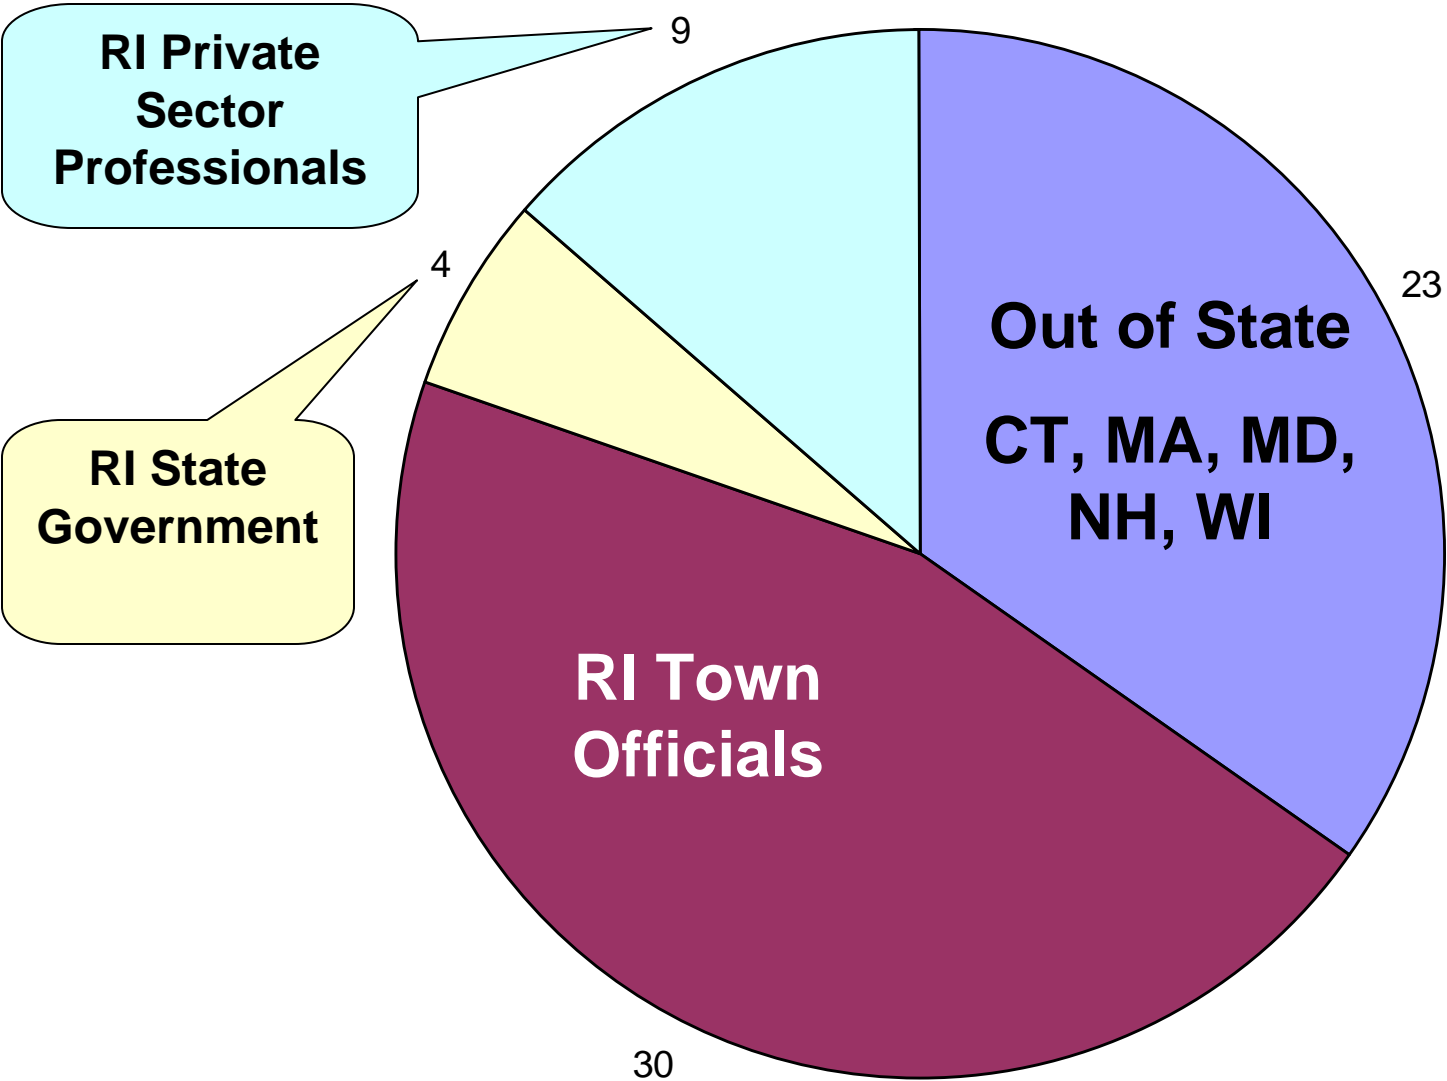

Workshop Logistics

- Handout packet
- Agenda review
- Evaluation form
- Questions and answers
- Continuing education credits
- Facilities
- Use of cell phones and pagers

RE: Proof of Class Attendance

- If you are seeking DEM licensing credits, we will stamp your agenda at lunch and at the end of the workshop. Please bring it to George Loomis.
- Please file your stamped agenda in a safe/obvious place.
- You are responsible for proving attendance to the RIDEM.
- We do NOT provide this service.

About Our Attendees

What We Will Cover Today

- 1) Management progress made
- 2) Town experiences with management programs
- 3) Performance goals and treatment options
- 4) Developing communication programs
- 5) Management program challenges
- 6) Database options for program tracking
- 7) Wastewater and stormwater connections