Important Information:

This is a petition for an adjustment to the effective date of a drop transaction. If you feel that the date on which you dropped your course(s) does not correctly reflect your actual attendance during the semester in question, an adjustment to the effective date may be requested to more accurately coincide with a verified actual date of attendance in class(es). This petition is appropriate only to situations involving change to comply with actual attendance dates. In some cases, where the University was responsible for a student's dropped course, a petition may be submitted which documents the circumstances for retroactive consideration.

Supporting statements from University sources must be presented on University letterhead or be sent from a URI email address. If you are claiming that you attended class(es) only until a certain date, then you must provide a statement from the course instructor(s) verifying your last date of attendance in class.

If you are claiming non-attendance because you transferred to another institution and failed to drop your course(s) prior to the start of the semester, a transcript verifying full-time attendance at the other institution may be submitted as acceptable documentation.

All departments within Enrollment Services, and other appropriate University Departments (i.e., Health Services, Dining Services, and Office of Residential Life) will be notified if your petition is successful. However, please note that Enrollment Services is not responsible for adjustments to health service fees, acc/sick insurance fees, or room and board charges. You should contact Health Services, Residential Life, or Dining Services for instructions concerning the appeal of these specific charges.
