

CHINESE IEP

The Chinese IEP is a new initiative at URI, strongly encouraged and endorsed by our partners in business and industry, and is under development. You are welcome to be among the first Chinese IEP students, but with the understanding that a full major is not yet possible at URI.

In its current format, students in the Chinese IEP will study Chinese language and culture and typically spend their fourth year in China, completing one semester of study followed by a six-month professional internship. The opportunity to participate in a 6- to 8-week summer immersion program is also available. The IEP is partnering with Zhejiang University in the city of Hangzhou, one of China's top engineering and science schools. We also have opened up internship opportunities with numerous companies in China.

The proposed BA degree program parallel to your engineering degree will be a major in Asian Studies to include study of Mandarin Chinese and appropriate courses in Asian history, art, politics and thought. Until such time when the full major is approved, Chinese IEP students can earn two minors: 1) Asian Studies and 2) Chinese Language, alongside the B.S. in an engineering discipline.

SPECIAL NOTES FOR STUDENTS IN THE INTERNATIONAL ENGINEERING PROGRAM

- It is your responsibility to stay in contact with your advisors to make sure that you are fulfilling all requirements for your major, minors and general education requirements! Check with your engineering department to find out who has been assigned as your engineering advisor.
- For IEP advising, start with Professor John Grandin (Director) or Kathleen Maher (Assistant Director,) both located in the IEP office. They also coordinate the study abroad and internship placement processes.
- You are required to complete a six-month professional internship abroad to be considered an IEP student.

*For MCE, OCE and IME majors, EGR 316 (Eng. Ethics) is a required course in the curriculum, which also fulfills a Letters requirement.

English Communications (EC): 6 credits, one of which must be a writing course (Ecw.)

Social Science (S): 6 credits, one of which is fulfilled by ECN 201, which is already required for all engineering majors. Consider opting for a second course with a global focus, or a focus on China or Asia.

Letters (L): 6 credits. Several courses toward the Asian Studies minor can simultaneously fulfill Letters requirements. For IME, MCE and OCE majors, EGR 316 (Engineering Ethics) is a required course in the curriculum and also fulfills one of the Letters requirements.

Fine Arts and Literature (A): You must choose from literature, music, theater, arts selections as indicated in catalog. Consider seeking prior-approval for comparable courses abroad.

Note: There are additional General Education Requirements in Mathematical and Quantitative Reasoning, Natural Sciences, and Foreign Language/Cross-Cultural Competence, which will be fulfilled automatically through your progress toward an engineering degree with a language minor.
