

University of Rhode Island

Proposal Development & Federal Funding Opportunities Workshop

Presenters:

Dr. Joseph G. Danek

Senior Vice President, The Implementation Group, Inc. (TIG) and former Senior Executive, National Science Foundation (NSF)

Dr. Thomas N. Taylor

Roy A. Roberts Distinguished Professor of Paleobiology, The University of Kansas; Member, National Academy of Sciences (NAS); Member, National Science Board

Wednesday, October 20, 2010

Location: Weaver Auditorium,
Coastal Institute, Kingston

Schedule:

9:00am — 9:30am

TIG Overview
Federal Budget

9:30am — 11:00am

Proposal Development

11:00am — 12:00pm

Agencies Part I:
NSF

- Priorities, review criteria, and process

12:00pm — 12:30pm / Q&A

12:30pm — 1:30pm LUNCH

(box lunch provided to the first 50 registrants)

1:30pm — 3:00pm

Agencies Part II:

NIH
DOC-NOAA

Individual/Group Sessions

TOPICS:

- Federal budget climate overview
- Agency funding trends
- Agency crosscutting opportunities
- How to make your application/proposal competitive
- 25 pitfalls to avoid
- What are agency reviewers looking for?
- Insights into “broader impacts,” “data management/data access plans,” and other now-necessary components
- Developing a plan your proposal

Faculty should register with:

Malia Schwartz, Ph.D., malias@ds.uri.edu, 874-5857

NOTE: Please feel free to bring your laptop.

Participants are welcome to attend the session(s) pertaining to their research or the entire day.

Limited to 120 people